Starry-eyed... NO RASH SPREAD AT HOSPITAL ...MEDICAL CHIEF

● Kim Williams, 15, a pupil of Altona North High School, has been promised a part in one of Harry M. Miller's productions—following a successful audition for the musical, Grease.

Footscray and District Hospital's medical superintendent, Dr. P. J. McCleave, said yesterday there had been no serious outbreak of a skin rash at the hospital.

Dr. McCleave was commenting on rumors that an infectious skin rash was spreading through staff and patients.

He said, however, that one patient had been found to have a mite infection.

Dictionaries give one definition of mite as "a minute insect".

Dr. McCleave said the investigation and diagnosis of the one mite infection case had involved senior medical staff at the hospital, a skin specialist and Health Department officials.

A few members of the staff had complained of a skin irritation, but no proven mite infection had been found among them.

Some of these had, however, been treated as being in need of possible preventive action.

The investigation had now been closed, Dr. McCleave added.

"HALF" CLAIM

Rumors reaching the Star had claimed that a skin rash was spreading widely among the hospital's staff.

One staff member claimed that about half the staff had been infected.

The rash was a mystery and was known among the staff as the "Footscray Hospital Rash", the employee claimed.

The rumors said the rash attacked all parts of the body and was at times painful.

A hospital administration staff member said before Dr. McCleave could be contacted that there had been "a small problem".

Cattle drive, and now a range war?

Following the recent incident of stray cattle in Queen Street, Altona Council may now have a mini "range war" on its hands.

City ranger, Mr. Robert Heyen, has advised Council that a person without authority was taking steps to fence off an area in Altona Meadows, south of Queen St. and east of Merton St.

"This would have the effect of closing Balablava Ave., Nicholson St., and other north-south streets running south of Queen St.," said Mr. Heyen.

In his report to council, town clerk, Mr. Syd Fell said moves had been made to serve notice on the party concerned to immediately remove the fencing he had built.

The man concerned had been advised also that if the fencing was not removed in 48 hours, legal action would be started. The person involved with the unauthorised fencing is alleged to be the owner of the cattle which strayed in Queen Street recently.

STAR GAZE

Football enthusiasts in Altona can be quite proud about Altona's three-point win over the Bacchus Marsh league last Sunday. According to Altona's noted footy authority, Tommy ("One Goal"), the Marsh team had former VFL stars Merv Hobbs and Wes Lofts in its side.

Altona's first heavy rock group, Poltergeist, owes part of its instant success to youth club worker, Tim McGarry and Altona Council. The boys in the group didn't have anywhere to practice and they approached Tim, who allowed them use of the youth hall in Civic Parade. Result: The group was an instant success at the Daddy Cool dance at Werribee, last Sunday night.

Altona North High School teacher, Ian ("Throb") Roberts, was one of the many who speared along to Werribee last week to see Daddy Cool. "Things have changed since the dance first ran five years ago," he said. "Those days you had to wring the sweat out of your shirt after each dance. Now the kids just aren't interested." Ian is currently working on the sets for a musical to be presented by Altona North High.

By now, just about every resident in Altona, has received a leaflet put out by the Ratepayers' Association an titled "Altona — A Good Place to Live".

The leaflet contains quotes and statements by the chairman of the Ratepayers' Association, Mr. A. B. Shaw; president of the Altona District Hospital Board of Management, Mr. R. H. Stringer; pioneer resident, Mr. Bill Dickenson; Camera Club member, Keith Patterson; Altona Meadows residents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Speer, and former councillor, Kas-Jurga.

Seat belt would have saved her...

Nineteen-year-old Lorna MacFarlane, of Beach St., Seaholme, was killed on her way home for lunch last Friday, when her car and a truck collided.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Civic Parade and Altona Street, at 11.50 a.m., when a truck crashed into the car driven by Miss MacFarlane, killing Miss MacFarlane and her Afghan pup instantly, then careering into another car head on.

A police spokesman said Miss MacFarlane would possibly have suffered only a broken leg if she had been wearing a seat belt.

"Both people in the other car were wearing seat belts and they lived," he said.

Miss MacFarlane was a former Altona High School student.

The accident was attended by Constable Greg Keys, of Altona.

COUNCIL TO MEET COMMISSION

The Altona Council has been invited to send representation to the Housing Commission next Monday to discuss the development of the Paisley briquette depot site.

The invitation, by Housing Commission secretary, Mr. A. Bohn, follows a request by Council for a major deputation to the commission.

In his letter to Council, Mr. Bohn indicated the commission had no specific plans for the area, but it was expected that development would start next year.

He said the commission planning staff had already noted the requirement for the provision of space for a Primary School to be developed in the area.

Mr. Bohn suggested that preliminary discussions with Council could take place at 4 p.m. on Monday and he asked Council to confirm the time.

Rotoract is after you

Once you leave school, friends are hard to keep.

They seem to scatter in all directions.

Some go on to university, others move away to distant suburbs, others interstate.

It's easy to fall into the rut of going to work each day and, relaxing in front of the TV by night.

But young people miss
the sense of fellowship
they enjoyed at school.

The Altona Rotoract
Club gives you the chance to do something for someone else and at the same time provides new friends and a sense of fellowship.

If you're 20 years old or over, Rotoract needs you.

Mr. Bob Carroll, 22, the club's new president welcomes enquiries.

His address is P.O. Box
69, phone 398 1065.

The Altona Rotoract
Club meets every fortnight
at Plasticat Co., Chambers Road, North Altona.

Members have a chance to take part in interclub visits. Last year's Rotoract District Conference at Al-bury was attended by 600
visitors from Victoria and NSW.

Altona Rotoract Club
has both men and women
members aged 18-28.
Forthcoming functions include a squash night,
horseriding, smorgasbord,
car trial and a film night.

Recently the club put up an 11,000 ft. fencing
around Cherry Lake, Altona in a council project
and raised enough money to take 50 schoolchildren to Anakie Fairy Park in Ballarat recently.

One of the children, Leslie Matcham of Epsom Street, Laverton, wrote an appreciative letter to thank members for the outing.

The club is sponsored by the Altona Rotary Club.

BILL IS 87

Pioneer Altona
resident, Mr. Bill Dickerson, 87, was guest at a recent meeting of Altona
council.

He was invited along to the meeting, the night before his birthday, by Cr. Les Crofts.

"I'm sure he needs no
introduction," said Cr.
Crofts, to the man who has lived in Altona for 50 years.

Big night for the lifesavers

Twenty members of Altona Lifesaving Club were thanked for their outstanding service recently, when they were invited as official guests to the Altona Council meeting.

The lifesavers, along with their president, Mr.
Roy Edwards, were presented to the mayor, Cr.
Pat Lynch, by Cr. Pat
Burns.

Cr. Burns said the lifesavers had been invited
as guests of the council for the first time and he was very proud of all the trophies they had brought along with them.

He invited the club president, Mr. Roy Edwards to speak on behalf of the lifesavers.

Referring to the vast array of trophies on display, on a table in the council chamber, Mr. Edwards said: "The trophies
you see here bear the names of some Altona
councillors."

Cr. Burns is our strongarm. He gives us the support we need when we're down. Tonight we've brought along our trophy winners.

Mr. Edwards said: "For the first time in 22 years,
the Champion of the Club trophy has been won by a girl — Cheryl Shaw."

"I've been in lifesaving clubs since 1956 and I'm proud to have this movement behind me," he said.
"We've been together now
for 22 years and we have a great building on the beach."

"We raised $6000 towards the building ourselves."

Referring to the trophy winners present, Mr. Edwards said: "These youngsters are the cream of Altona youth. During the summer they take it on themselves each Saturday

and Sunday to spend time
on our beach."

After Mr. Edwards had spoken, the mayor, Cr.
Lynch, presented a plaque with a citation on it, to the lifesavers.

"It is encouraging to see so many young members
in this club," he said.

The natural thing

The astronaut had been lost in space for several years. But now at last he was returning home to earth.

From his speeding space capsule his tired eyes strained for a view of his native planet.

He thought of its gentle greens and blues; how it hung like a massive opal
in the darkness of the universe.

There it was now, only a faint speck on the viewfinder. Soon he would be home.

What was that!
He stared in disbelief at the thing before him on the screen. Could he have lost his way?

Impossible! The grey object grew larger. It looked like a huge blob of bitumen. Perfectly spherical it spun slowly,
heavily, in space.

Science fiction?
Each day the population of the planet is moving a step closer to this grotesque reality.

For not a day passes
without half a million acres of virgin land being smothered by the concrete and bitumen of progress.

Man in the 20th century
bares his steely technological teeth and prepares to bite the world he was so graciously given.

A large part of the bite
can be credited to the obscene phenomena "the new estate."

Weekly these horrors are advertised with a monotonous persistence in the real estate columns of newspapers.

These advertisements seem to conform to a basic stereotype.

Usually they depict a charming young family
having a pleasant barbecue.

Behind the group, a parklike landscape is dotted with mature eucalypts,

from whose branches the odd koala swings.

A carefully selected
name from the "psychosellers," perhaps the "Huntsman's Retreat," adds a final rustic touch.

Unable to resist, their mouths watering for a steak being barbecued by the young man, a swarm of home-makers descends
on the area.

In a matter of weeks, a huge hot tidal wave of bitumen grows through the hills.

Before it cools and hardens, a multitude of dwellings and power poles
bubble to the surface.

Over the years those who have fought this kind of "ugliness" have had little success.

They may have devoted more space to trees than concrete on their own land.

Nevertheless their house
needed space to be built,
and a road had to be constructed by their property.

These young people are not to blame for the choice available to them have been so limited.

Either stay in the inner suburbs, possibly in a high-rise flat, or alternatively, move to the fringe suburbs.

Most, of course, choose the latter.

Even though it could do with some drastic rethinking, the housing industry is not basically at fault either.

Underneath the ugliness
lurks the real culprit —
population growth.

In future any major environmental concerns must take account of this animal. For as rabbits are pests to the farmer, so are we to the planet. Great huge bunnies hurriedly nibbling the green from the face of the earth.

We'll turn your before into an after.

Why put up with an ugly, rusty, leaky old iron roof or the problems of a slate or asbestos roof? It does nothing your property. And it costs you even more if it lets the water in.

Val's Column

Hello Girls,

When is it time for a wig if it isn't now? Wet, cold, miserable, windy days. These synthetic wigs are the wonder of the now age! No setting, just a little teasing into your preferred style and you're made.

It can blow its darnedest rain at will and you still look respectable — let alone have a warm head and pair of ears — also arrive home dry.
No need to tell you these things, you already know.

But the unfortunate ones that haven't made the break do not know what they are missing.

But here is their chance — and yours. We've reduced a whole stack of wigs to half price, right now because it is now that you need it most. Half price. Not cheap synthetic wigs, but original stock marked down.

All colors and a variety of styles.

You can try on a new color and style in comfort at our wig bar. Have your choice shaped and ready to wear right now.

Wear it home, surprise the family. Keep warm.

Just the thing for the younger lass by Miners.

We realise she likes to buy the right foundation,
the latest in highlight colors for her face, out of her pocket money.

Now she can start and finish her day looking after her skin with Miners' new cleansers and toner. The correct routine should be a natural thing to us, starting early and getting to know your correct creams is most important.

I suggest, if your skin is a little oily, has maybe a blemish or two, that you try Miners' "Tingle", a greaseless medicated toning gel. Tingle helps keep clear skin clear, shielding against the elements and your daily make-up. Keeping your skin clear of blemishes. Refining the pores.

You have a choice of two cleansers: Quick Clean and Face Wash.

Quick Clean is fast, goes deep down soaking out stale, make-up and daily grime. Marvellous for removing eye make-up. Quick Clean is a lotion to apply with cotton wool.

Face Wash is a liquid applied to a wet face with fingertips. Never leaving your skin feeling dry or taut. Lightly lifting grime and make-up, yet ever so gentle for young skin.

Bye.

Youth gets 'benefit' on car plate charge

Mr. H. Boarder SM gave a young man the benefit of what he described as "a very slight doubt" and dismissed a charge against him of having fraudulently used car number plates.

Eighteen-years-old David John Molloy, of 10 Brook Drive, Altona, faced charges in Williamstown Court of having driven without a licence, driven an unregistered car and driven a car without third party insurance, as well as the fraud charge. Constable N. Little, of Maryborough police and formerly of Altona police, said he intercepted the car Molloy was driving in Grieve Highway, Altona, on August 15 last year.

He said Molloy admitted he did not have a licence and that the car was not registered, or covered by third party insurance.

He alleged that Molloy said he knew the number plates on the car did not belong to it, but had been put on so he and his friends could drive around without being caught.

Cross-examined by Mr. Leo Broben (for Molloy),

Const. Little admitted Molloy told him he was not the owner of the car and that he had found out later that the car belonged to another of the youths who was with him.

Molloy, giving sworn evidence, said he did not know that the number plates on the car did not belong to it.

It had never occurred to him that the plates were not the proper ones and he would not have driven the car if he had known.

Cross-examined by police prosecutor, Sgt. Jack Evans, Molloy denied having told police the false number plates had been put on the car so police could not catch the youths.

Mr. Broben submitted to Mr. Boarder that Molloy had not committed fraud as he had no intention of deceiving.

Mr. Boarder dismissed the charge because there was some slight doubt in his mind whether the defendant really knew about the number plates.

He found Molloy guilty on the other three charges and fined him $100 for having driven without a licence, $80 for having driven an unregistered car and $100 for having driven a car not covered by Third Party insurance.

He gave Molloy a stay of seven days to pay.

'Arold would have been 'orrified

'Arold Steptoe would have shuddered in his wornout hobnail boots last week, at the thought of his Pier Street counterpart, Neville Ingwersen, playing the "Good Samaritan," and giving away secondhand clothes.

Nev, who has just established the "Treasure Mart" second-hand shop, at the southern end of Pier Street, wanted to clear as many old clothes as he could to make way for more furniture.

So, sporting his new Zapata moustache (which fits in well with the theme of treasure and pirates), he called on these ladies at the Altona Elderly Citizens' Club in Sargood Street.

Don's on the job

Altona's new Deputy Town Clerk, Mr. Don Wood, commenced duty with the council on Monday, last week.

Mr. Wood, a former Williamstown resident, comes to Altona from Hastings Shire Council.

Cr. Les Crofts will chair the meeting and speakers will include the Health Officer of Altona, Dr. John Leydin, the Director of the Victorian Council for the Ageing, Mr. Peddlesen; Mrs. Rosemary Dargaville, BA, Dip. Social Work and a research social worker, and the Director of Geriatrics of the Brotherhood of St. Laurence, Mr. Neville Brooke.

A good scout for 40 years

A record of 40 years' service to the Scout Movement was acknowledged by the 2nd Newport group, when Mr. H. Lacy was guest of honor at a social evening.

Mr. Lacy is a foundation member of the group and has served in many positions.

Mr. Lacy, a prominent businessman in the Newport-Altona area, took up scouting when the 2nd Newport group was formed 40 years ago and retained his connection since.

He was a cub master with the group, and at the time of his retirement was treasurer.

The picture shows him with Altona councillor W. Summers (right).

Original members of the group who attended the evening included Mr.

and Mrs. A. Boardman, Mr. and Mrs. B. Loft, Mr. and Mrs. E. Suckling and Mr. and Mrs. K. Harrison.

Mr. B. Winter, spokesman for the group, presented Mr. Lacy with a nest of tables. He will be presented also with a scouting commissioner's certificate of merit.

In a return presentation, the group received

Mr. Lacy's original, hand-painted dragon-pattern scarf.

In conjunction with the presentation evening, two cubs graduated to the scout section.

They are Stewart Vines and Gregory Kemp. Two scouts, Graham Kemp and Ramon Ackerley, graduated to senior, or venturer, section of the group.

Smile, you're on candid camera

Two young men were photographed as they entered a Werribee pharmacy, Williamstown Court was told last week.

One of the youths, Keith Norman Lockwood, of 45 Curlew Avenue, North Altona, faced a charge of having broken into the shop and taken $245.

Lockwood pleaded guilty to the charge.

Detective Senior-Constable Robert Degg, of Williamstown CIB, told the court he was called to the pharmacy at 7 Station Street, Werribee, on May 22.

The proprietor, Mr. P. Ross, showed him the negative of a photograph taken of the intruders by a security camera.

He returned the next day and was given a copy of the photograph, which showed two men in the Station Street shop.

Det. Sen.-Const. Degg submitted the photograph to the court as evidence.

He told the court he went to Lockwood's home in Curlew Avenue, North Altona, on June 20.

He interviewed Lockwood's mother and later both she and her son came to Williamstown CIB.

He said Lockwood denied it was he in the photograph.

Later Lockwood admitted being there after Det. Sen.-Const. Degg had visited his home again and produced some of the clothes Lockwood was wearing in the photograph.

In a record of interview read to the court, Lockwood said he had been drinking at the Tarmac Hotel and later drove to Werribee with a friend.

The friend suggested they break into the chemist's shop and get some money.

Lockwood said he would not give his friend's name and, in any case, he didn't know his surname anyway.

His friend forced the shop's back door with tools from Lockwood's car.

Lockwood said he did not touch the door because he did not know how to open it.

They took the money from the till and then he noticed a camera eye lined up with the till.

He said he realised they had been photographed because there was a flash of light as they came through the door.

Lockwood said that although they divided the $245 equally between them, he had wanted only about $40 for beer money and living expenses.

Cross-examined by counsel for Lockwood, Det. Sen.-Const. Degg admitted the chemist had agreed to accept $122.50 from Lockwood as restitution for his part of the theft.

The court was told that Lockwood was a third-year apprentice radio mechanic who was unemployed at the time of the theft.

He was at present working as a shop assistant at the same place his mother worked and hoped to finish his apprenticeship with a Government department.

After leaving his first job in March this year he was unable to get another job where he could continue his apprenticeship.

He continued his course at the Royal Melbourne Institute of Technology although unemployed.

Lockwood's father told the court his son had been depressed lately.

He was easily led and had been mixing with "all types" of youths since he gave up his job. He never went to hotels until he had trouble finding employment.

Both Mrs. Lockwood and Lockwood's former employers, Mr. and Mrs. L. Trickey, gave character evidence.

Mr. Trickey said he used to leave Lockwood completely in charge of his electrical shop and workshop when he was called out on repair work and had always found him trustworthy and diligent.

Mr. Boarder, SM, told Lockwood that, as he had no prior convictions, he would give him a chance to rehabilitate himself and placed him on a two-year good behavior bond.

He warned Lockwood to cut his associations with the friends who were likely to lead him into trouble but did not make this a condition of his probation as requested by Lockwood's defence counsel.

RACV BACKS NEW ROAD PLAN

The RACV strongly supported the building of a super highway system linking Australia's capital cities provided it did not interfere with urban and country road development, RACV president Mr. J. F. Derham, said at the weekend.

The Bureau of Roads has prepared a plan for a highway system linking State capitals from Brisbane to Perth and connecting to Canberra.

Mr. Derham said Australian motoring organisations had pressed for some time for the building of such a highway, but it must not interfere with the present grants to the States for roads.

The Hume Highway between Melbourne and Sydney was a bits and pieces road which must be upgraded urgently.

It was quite out of date for the two biggest cities in Australia to be connected by a road which must in the long run, increase transport costs and road accidents.

We are convinced that first class roads will play a big part in reducing the road toll which is far too high in Australia.

The RACV was pleased to see that the Bureau of Roads' plan included the improvement of the Eyre Highway between Adelaide and Perth.

Long service leave now allowed families to travel around Australia but many of them balked at crossing the dusty section of the Eyre Highway.

The NRMA conducted a survey recently of the Hume Highway between Melbourne and Sydney and concluded that it would be decades before the entire length of the road was of reasonable uniform standard, based on the current pace of progress.

Last month the RACV and the RAASA surveyed the highway between Melbourne and Adelaide, and a report of this will be released shortly.

Smart styling in new Datsun 'tonner'

Nissan Australia has released a new style one-tonner truck.

The Datsun one-ton truck has been the world's best-seller over the past few years.

With a completely new, stylish cabin, a sedan-like passenger compartment and seats and a number of mechanical refinements, the new one-ton represents the first major change since the model was introduced on the Australian market in 1966.

And Nissan Australia expects it to become even more popular among local truck operators and fleet owners.

Like the previous 1-ton, the latest version is available in short and long wheelbase form, both as a steel-panelled utility truck and as a chassis-cab unit.

A wide range of van and tray bodies is available for the latter — up to 8 ft. long, the maximum permissible.

Yet all models retain low-loading capability while providing a large 8 inch ground clearance.

Designed from the ground up as a light truck, not as the adaptation of a sedan car, the 1972-73 one-ton retains the heavy duty 1483cc (90.5 CID) four cylinder engine and four speed all-synchromesh truck gearbox.

Its maximum horsepower is 77 bhp while 87 ft. lb. of torque is available at 3200 rpm. The compression ratio is a low 8.3:1 allowing the one-ton to operate on regular grade fuel.

Torsion-bar front suspension with stabiliser and a semi-elliptic leaf-spring rear axle are fitted to combine maximum payload strength with a comfortable, pitch-free ride.

In launching the new one-ton, Nissan has aimed for sedan refinement with light truck practicability.

The re-styled, roomier cabin has slim pillars and a large glass area for good all-round visibility; the bench front seat is better-shaped and more lavishly upholstered and the wrap-around dashboard follows the theme used in the luxury 240C sedan and hardtop with instruments housed in separate pods behind reflection-free glass.

Added safety comes from recessed dashboard knobs, a thickly-padded instrument panel, and a zone-toughened wind-screen.

Mechanically, the Datsun has been made quieter and smoother with the fitting of a new three-joint tailshaft.

Designed for economical operation — Nissan claims the lowest cost per ton-mile of any truck or utility in its class — the prices in the new Datsun one-ton range are low in keeping.

Chassis-cab versions start at $2095 with the steel-bodied utility truck available from $2225.

Right man in the right job

Social worker, Mr. Luthfi Tellegen, shouldn't have any trouble in his job — he speaks four languages fluently and knows a little about three others.

And it probably won't be long before he becomes fluent in the others too. Most of the people he will help are expected to be migrants.

Mr. Tellegen, 47, started late last month as social worker for the Sunshine Christian Community Service.

His position was made possible by a special grant from the Department of Immigration.

Previously experienced in both social work and industrial psychology, Mr. Tellegen is excited about his new job. He says there is much to be done.

"Life today has far more pressures than it did in our grandfather's time," he said.

"To live in today's society one has to use all of one's capacity — energy, intelligence and strength of character."

Except for certain small things, our real needs today are no longer material but personal."

Complexity

Mr. Tellegen said the basis to what makes life today so difficult is its sheer complexity, which makes it so hard to cope.

It is hard enough for the average Australian, harder still for the poorer Australian, and extremely difficult for a newly-arrived migrant.

"Unless you push the right button at the right time you are out of a job ... if you don't know how to sign documents properly you don't get what you are after," he said.

"This is where the problems arise."

He said, however, that straight-out poverty was just as big a problem among people who go to social workers for help.

And the group with the greatest problems — poverty and otherwise — is the Turks.

"Unless they are helped to get along in this society there will be trouble for them and everyone else," Mr. Tellegen warned.

Mr. Tellegen joined the Christian Community Services group after a year as a social worker with the Commonwealth Department of Social Services in Footscray.

He holds a Bachelor of Divinity degree and a Social Work Diploma for Leyden University in Holland, and has spent most of his time in industrial psychology.

He came to Australia in September, 1970, after having worked for a short time in Jakarta, Indonesia.

He had long wanted to come to Australia, and, seeing he was so close while in Indonesia, decided to make the break.

He toured Perth, Melbourne, Sydney and Brisbane before deciding on the Yarra city to settle down in.

Mr. Tellegen said the Community Services Centre was now in need of volunteer interpreters in Greek, Yugoslavian, Turkish and Egyptian.

Also needed were married women and young girls prepared to help out for a few hours each week in the office.

NEVER WILL YOU BE FORGOTTEN. YOU WILL ALWAYS REMAIN IN OUR HEARTS. TILL WE MEET AGAIN — RICHARD.

LORNA, I DON'T HAVE WORDS I ONLY HAVE FEELINGS — YOUR BROTHER, GLENN.

Dear Mr. & Mrs. MacFarlane & Glenn,

Lorna was a really beautiful person and to me she was even more beautiful because we were friends, good friends and in a certain way I loved her. We had good times and happy times, and I have these memories to hold on to forever and I will never forget either them or her.

It was so sudden and I think that everyone who knew her loved her and found it so hard to believe that she was gone.

Really, I ask myself, why does it have to be such a young innocent girl who had so much life left to live and so much to look forward to, but God must have loved her and wanted to take her at such an early age in life.

I offer my sympathy in this time of grief and sorrow which the three of you are going through, and not only you but everyone who knew her. If at any time there is anything I can do for you please do not hesitate to phone me as I will be only too pleased to help.

Yours sincerely, Robyn Morrow.

WESTS DOWN MARSH FOR FIRST TIME

In a first-class game of football at the weekend, the combined Western Suburbs League team downed a Bacchus Marsh League combination for the first time.

The final count saw west only two points in front, 13.10 (88) to 12.14 (86), after having entered the fourth quarter with a five-goal lead.

Bacchus Marsh used the strong wind favoring their end to the greatest possible advantage to almost bridge the gap before the final siren.

From the start it appeared the western team would have its work cut out. The team they faced were much taller and heavier.

And the tough task was borne out in the first quarter, when the west had the wind advantage but failed to clear away from the brilliant high marking and clearing Marsh team.

The Marsh defenders were playing the backman's game to perfection, punching the ball away when behind and pushing forward from the half-back line at every opportunity.

In the second term, Bacchus Marsh had the wind advantage and it seemed they would take complete control of the game.

But this was not to be. The Western Suburbs

League back and half-back lines played magnificent football, doing everything required of them and attacking relentlessly.

With the wind in the third term falling almost completely away, the westerners combined brilliantly as a team.

They passed the ball wide and kept it low, drawing away from a Marsh team they looked to be tiring.

The opposition's early dominant players were well held and an effective blanket was cast on the strong half-back line.

The western ruckmen had taken control with the fast, small men gathering kicks in abundance.

The end of the third quarter saw the westerners five goals in front and supporters full of confidence.

But during the break the wind sprung up again and cast a black cloud over the west's chances of taking home the honors.

As time ticked by, Bacchus Marsh caught up steadily.

Desperate football was being shown by both sides, with the Western Suburbs team battling to keep the ball on the negative flank all the time.

Some unbelievable free kick awards to Bacchus Marsh almost won them the game.

But the close checking and tireless efforts of the western players held them together just enough for the narrow win.

The win was made even more impressive by west having lost, in the first term, the captain Maltisdale, who had performed brilliantly.

Every player gave his all and each had his moments of glory.

But from a hard list to pick, best players would have been:

Jeff Lott, brilliant at all times on the wing, applying courage and endeavor to great advantage.

John Dickenson, outstanding on the half-back flank, never giving his opponent breathing space.

Martin Crump, a dashing ruck-roller, breaking away from the centre in breath-taking fashion, and contributing effectively for the full 100 minutes.

Shane Maddox, a great ball-getter and damaging when on the attack.

Laurie Durham, impressive as a permanent back-pocket and specially reliable when the pressure was at its greatest.

The win means that — at long last — the Western Suburbs Football League has won the coveted A. F. Mason trophy.

And if the standard shown by the west at the weekend continues and reflects in next season's meeting, Bacchus Marsh will be hard-pressed to win it back.

NO RASH SPREAD AT HOSPITAL

— Medical chief

Footscray and District Hospital's medical superintendent, Dr. P. J. McCleave, said yesterday there had been no serious outbreak of a skin rash at the hospital.

Dr. McCleave was commenting on rumors an infectious skin rash was spreading through staff and patients at the hospital.

He said, however, one patient had been found to have a mite infection.

Dictionaries give one definition of mite as, "a minute insect."

Dr. McCleave said the investigation and diagnosis of the one mite infection case had involved senior medical staff at the hospital, a skin specialist and Health Department officials.

A few members of the staff had complained of a skin irritation but no proven mite infection had been found among them.

Some of these had, however, been treated as being in need of possible preventive action.

The investigation had now been closed, Dr. McCleave added.

Rumors reaching the Star had claimed a skin rash was spreading widely among the hospital's staff.

One staff member claimed about half the staff had been infected.

The rash was a mystery and was known among the staff as the "Footscray Hospital Rash," the employee claimed.

The rumors said the rash attacked all parts of the body and was at times painful.

A hospital administration staff member said before Dr. McCleave could be contacted there had been "a small problem."

LIONS' ROAR

Members of Altona Lions Club take the Lions motto 'We Serve' seriously.

They are always on the lookout for people in need.

All cases are treated confidentially.

The 'service' phone number is 398 1687.

The Lions are aware of the fact that those who need their help are often too proud to ask for it.

So they invite the neighbors or friends of such people to get in touch.

Altona builder, Mr. Chas. Trickey, was elected president of the Altona Lions Club for the next 12 months.

Vice-presidents are Messrs Ron Tribe, Jack McGuckian and Alan Burto. Darryl Munn is the new Lion Tamer.

The change over night was at the Tarmac Hotel, on Wednesday, June 22.

Special guests included the Mayor and Mayoress of Altona, Cr. P. J. Lynch and Mrs. Lynch, Town Clerk, Mr. Syd Fell and Mrs. Fell.

Retiring president, Mr. Allan McDonald, thanked members for their support in the past year, with special thanks to the Lions ladies for their fund raising efforts.

The annual baby show and the monthly 'crazy events' nights were popular events.

The main fund raising project for the next year will be the paper drive.

It will be held on the first Sunday of each month.

With only a limited manpower, it is impossible for members to cover the whole city, so they call on regular donors only.

Papers can be left (suitably tied) at 8 David Street, Altona or a pick-up may be arranged on phone 398 2746 or 398 2457.

Regular donors would help by having their papers tied or boxed and left at the front gate.

Overseas judges for dog show

Two highly qualified overseas judges will head the panel adjudicating the dog section at Royal Melbourne Championship Dog Show, starting on September 21.

They are Mr. Maxwell Riddle, Ravenna, Ohio, USA, and Mrs. Carin Lindhe, Sweden, Vallen-ture, Sweden.

Announcing the judging panel, Mr. H. T. C. Wood, full, OBE, the director of the Royal Agricultural Society of Victoria, said that the appointments of Mr. Riddle and Mrs. Lindhe would add lustre to this year's show, which will mark 100 years since the first dog show was conducted by the National Agricultural Society of Victoria in the old showgrounds, in St. Kilda Road — the site now occupied by the Victoria Police Barracks.

Mr. Riddle is no stranger to the Royal Melbourne Show. He judged the 1967 'Royal'.

A globetrotter in the true sense of the word, he has judged in South Africa, Japan, Hong Kong, the Caribbean Islands, Cuba (three times), and no fewer than 14 times in South America.

In addition to these assignments, he has adjudicated at most of the big dogs shows in Canada, the USA and Mexico.

The name of Carin Lindhe, is legendary all over Europe. She is one of the few lady judges in the very top bracket of judging on the Continent.

Besides adjudicating in every big show in Europe, she has carried out assignments in South Africa, Canada, and most big dog shows in the United States.

Entries will close in all dog section classes on July 26 and must be in the hands of the director, Royal Agricultural Society of Victoria, Royal Showgrounds, Epsom Road, Ascot Vale, 3032, by 4.30 p.m.
